

Security

Users can be given the right levels of access to the system in accordance with their needs and security clearance.

Users can have No Access, Full Access or Read Only Rights to all or parts of the system.

