Knights Templar and the Traveller's Cheque

The Knights Templar was formed in 1118 to protect pilgrims travelling to the Holy Land.

Journeys were risky in those days especially when you were carrying a pile of gold!

So the Templars invented the traveller's cheque.

A pilgrim would hand in his gold at his local Templar stronghold and in return receive a receipt upon which he could draw funds, goods and services at any of the many Templar locations on his journey to and from Palestine.
