Redundancy Calculation Burden on HR and Payroll Teams

Business pressures and constraints often forces management teams to make redundancies. Whilst this is highly disagreeable for the whole organisation, the burden for this process often falls to HR and Payroll Departments who are responsible for the calculation of related redundancy and notice payments.

Cirrus can help ease this burden by producing Cognos Impromptu® reports which will:

- Produce all the relevant figures required for this eventuality.
- Remove the chances of human error
- Automatically produce all relevant paperwork and letters to cover redundancies

Make Savings with Salary Sacrifice

Cirrus is getting many enquiries from clients about setting up salary sacrifice schemes within PS enterprise® software. This method of making savings on National Insurance contributions can be enormously beneficial to companies, especially in the current economic climate. It is also of benefit to individuals who save on their NI contributions as well. Cirrus has setup a number of schemes for different companies and can bring this experience to your business if you are considering setting up a scheme.
